

LISC Chicago: Chicago Plans Workshops 2015 Application

LISC Chicago is accepting applications for Chicago Plans, a new workshop series for nonprofit and community leaders designed to strengthen engagement and facilitation skills and support meaningful neighborhood engagement in place-based planning.

LISC has partnered with the ICA on curriculum design and facilitation of Chicago Plans. Using a peer-to-peer format, participants will sharpen skills and practice tools to maximize participation and engagement; explore the unique role of community leadership in planning; reflect on personal skills in convening community stakeholders; and, study comprehensive planning, including participatory analysis, implementation and evaluation, along with resources available to leverage local plans. Chicago Plans will launch on October 2nd.

LISC is looking for teams of 3 individuals or organizations from community areas all throughout the city to apply. The workshop series will be beneficial to those just starting out in the field as well as seasoned veterans.

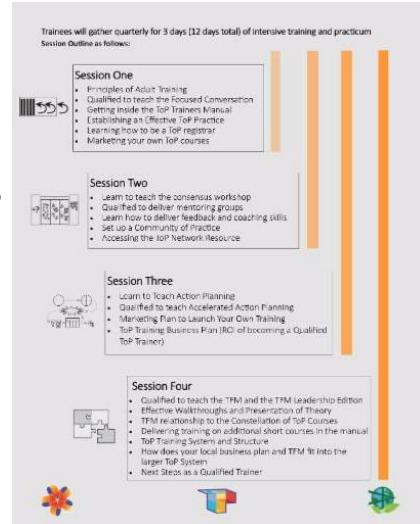

Applications are due September 4, 2015 AT 6:00 P.M.

National ToP Trainers' Academy

The National ToP Trainers' Academy is a one-year comprehensive train-the-trainer model designed to qualify trainers to teach the ToP Facilitation Methods, the ToP Facilitation Methods Leadership Edition, One-Day Focused Conversation, and Accelerated Action Planning. This training assumes that the individuals are already Certified ToP Facilitators (CTF) who are experienced in the application of ToP Methods. Candidates who are strongly anchored in ToP methods and well on their way to fulfilling the CTF requirements qualify for this program. The focus is on becoming a Qualified ToP Trainer. It is not focused on becoming a facilitator of ToP.

This Academy is for you if you...

- * Have discovered the ToP methods make a difference in your own life and work
- * Have seen how effective the ToP is in all sectors of your community
- * Would like to realize your vision to build your own practice or deliver ToP methods within your own organization

- * Have observed the passion of other trainers teaching the ToP methods and tools and considered the possibility of yourself in that role
  - * Would like to experience the fulfillment of enabling others to facilitate meaningful interactions within their organizations and communities
  - * Would like to experience the energy and connections of new-found colleagues as a cohort

ICA Building & Programs Win Awards This Summer

"Illinois Financing Roundtable Excellence Award" from Council of Development Finance Agencies (CDFA)

CDFA is a national association dedicated to the advancement of development finance concerns and interests. ICA GreenRise Building Retrofit was announced as a winner of an Excellence Award for it's creative building use and exciting financing proposals. This award will help the GreenRise attract interested investors and further it's mission. On the right is ICA Property Manager Lesley Showers with the CDFA award.

"Partner of the Year" awarded by Public Allies Chicago

This year Public Allies Chicago (PAC) named ICA their Partner of the Year. ICA's commitment was demonstrated by hosting multiple Allies, leading a day-long training for the full cohort and offering programmatic housing to Allies. ICA is excited to be hosting our newest ally Joseph Taylor, a current GreenRise resident, to the programming team this fall. On the right is Program Coordinator Caitlin Sarro receiving the PAC Award

ICA Engages Youth in Service Learning in Chicago

While staying in the ICA GreenRise, two youth ministries participated in an abridged ICA Service Learning program. Northway Christian Church and the First Christian Church of Rowlett, both from Texas, arranged for their two ministries to learn, live, and volunteer together. Caitlin Sarro, ICA Program Coordinator, led the training with the group of 40 youth (aged 12-17) and their youth ministers to explore a deeper understanding of service work, causes of homelessness, and systemic injustice. The group's days were divided between reflective curriculum and hands-on volunteering with nonprofits across Chicago.

Colleagues Gather at ICA to Remember Betty Chipman Pesek

While celebrating Betty's "great life lived and completed," guests shared many personal stories and common reflections. Elise Packard, now living in Santa Fe, wrote:

"Have you ever identified with Bridging Betty?... Can you imagine Betty telling her North Shore friends that she was going to take the train each day to (Chicago's) West Side, and therefore would not be available for tea? Can you imagine Betty recruiting these same friends for a weekend of study in a church basement, or a chance to make a safe haven for West Side children during riots, or beckoning these friends to a life of action sparking social justice?"

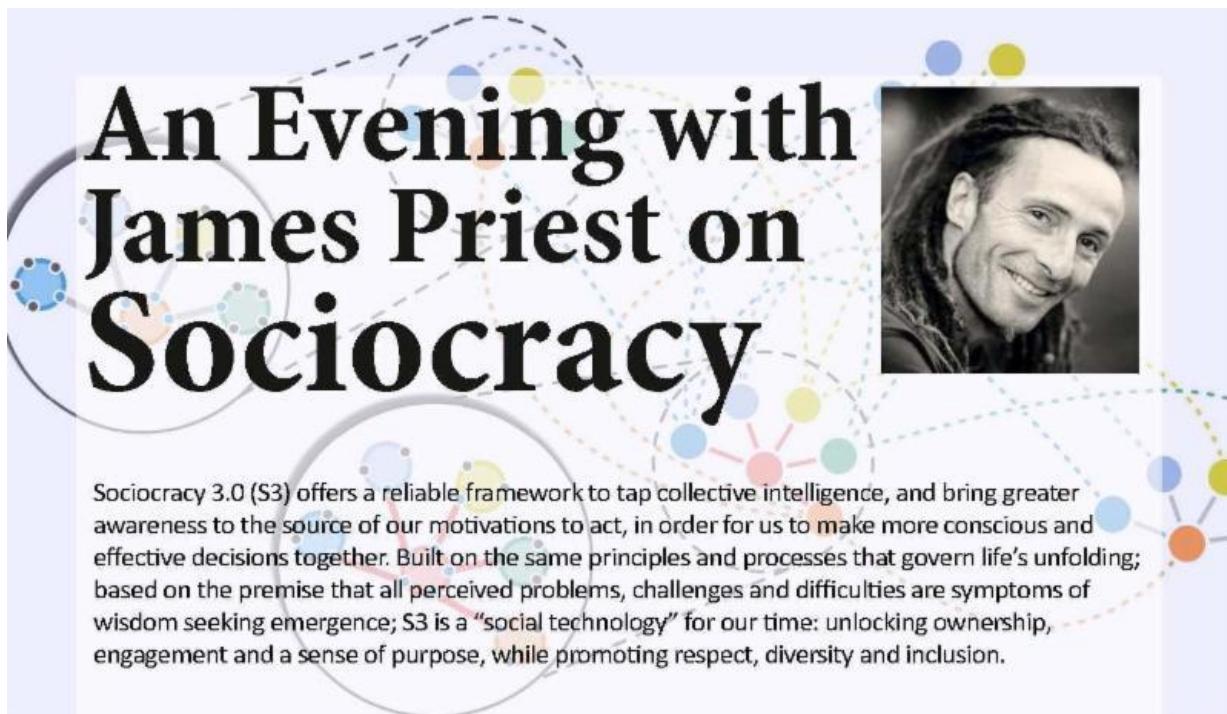

After the Daily Office, the morning worship service performed by staff of the Ecumenical Institute, Elise facilitated small-group reflections. Among the words offered by her colleagues to describe Betty were "elegant integrity," "gracious presence," "fearless," and "servant leadership."

Our Global Archives team named their room "The Betty C. Pesek Room" in her honor. Chris, her son, shared that his mother had an alternative to "look busy; God is coming." Instead she proclaimed "Get it done; God is already here."

Upcoming Events - Mark Your Calendar!

An Evening with James Priest on Sociocracy

Sociocracy 3.0 (S3) offers a reliable framework to tap collective intelligence, and bring greater awareness to the source of our motivations to act, in order for us to make more conscious and effective decisions together. Built on the same principles and processes that govern life's unfolding; based on the premise that all perceived problems, challenges and difficulties are symptoms of wisdom seeking emergence; S3 is a "social technology" for our time: unlocking ownership, engagement and a sense of purpose, while promoting respect, diversity and inclusion.

August 31st

6:00 - 8:30 PM

ICA GreenRise
